PRESS RELEASE

September 14, 2020 (2.20 pm)

Unfounded claims of NLAT UG 2020 paper leak.

On September 14, 2020, the University offered students who complained of technical difficulties the opportunity to appear for an additional slot. The test paper was accessible to candidates only after they logged in to the platform. Thereafter, it appears that some candidates have copied the questions and circulated this on some messaging apps/emails after logging in.

While this is a malpractice under the NLAT proctoring guidelines, it does not affect the integrity of the exam as questions were already available to all candidates after login.

Our technology platform tracks and compares every candidate's answer behaviour patterns and hence, any unusual candidate answer behaviour will be identified and result in disqualification.

We will continue to investigate this matter with the help of our technical partners and issue further updates if necessary. We reassure candidates and their parents that we will be transparent and ensure examination integrity at all times.
